POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

The decision of the State Railroad Commission to make a searching inquiry into the whole railroad manpower situation, as requested by the steam railroads, in addition to its scheduled investigation into the effect of the Full Crew Law on rail operations during war-time, has turned the spotlight on a rapidly developing problem which threatens to become as serious to California as the farm labor crisis.

For reasons of military secrecy, it is a problem which thus far has not been aired fully in public, and probably can't be in the future, but testimony of railroad executives before legislative committees at Sacramento has given at least some indication of the gravity of the situation.

The acute shortage of railroad workers, plus the urgency of military requirements, rail officials testified, may force the lines to cut down on shipments of food-stuffs and livestock. "Unless relief is accorded our railroad and other railroads also," declared C. F. Donnatini, general manager of the Southern Pacific, "we will commence considering the application of embargoes on commercial freight." And from B. M. Patterson of Sacramento, assistant S. P. superintendent, came the warning that the railroads will not be able to provide transportation for livestock on the hoof if an embargo becomes necessary.

While contending that the operation of the Full Crew Law has been a serious factor in causing a shortage of brakemen and thereby delaying train movements, the railroads—in asking the State Railroad Commission for a full investigation of their manpower problem—cited the following conditions as other contributing causes to their difficulty: (1) Heavy military traffic and the tremendous increase in freight and passenger business arising from the war. (2) Loss of employees through enlistment and induction into the armed forces. (3) Loss of employees to other employers. (4) Restrictive laws which do not permit the lines fully to utilize the manpower available.

The problem is greatly heightened, the railroads set forth, by reason of the fact that California is the focal point of the war in the Pacific, with traffic demands correspondingly heavier here than in any other area in the Nation. On one of the railroads operating in California, it was brought out, government freight traffic during 1942 was 283 per cent greater than in 1941—and comparative increases occurred on other lines.

The railroads, in addition to seeking suspension of re-

BOND DINNER PLANS WELL UNDER WAY

The bond dinner being sponsored by the Kiwanis club for April 9, is going ahead very satisfactorily with sixty reservations already made and others coming in rapidly.

The entertainment program is practically complete, the speaker will be Lieut.-Colonel George H. Forst of the II Armored Corps of San Jose, whose topic will be "Mechanized Equipment."

The detailed program will be announced later.

Kiwanis president, W. H. Van Dyke appointed Ethan E. Lanphear as general chairman; Jack Murdock as entertainment chairman; and Rev. Donald H. Baldwin and Dr. W. I. Merrill to have charge of community singing.

Wives of Kiwanis members have volunteered to arrange the decorations.

Library Tea Planned by Woman's Club

One of the most important events of the years calendar for the Country Woman's club is the Library Tea which the group is planning for April 5 at the community hall in the Campbell library building.

Plans for the tea have been under discussion for the past few weeks. The proceeds will be used to buy new books for the library. The tea will be open to the public and will begin at 3 o'clock in the afternoon following the regular business meeting which will convene from 2:30 to 3:00.

Mrs. W. F. Grattan, tea chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, chairman of the library committee. Also serving on the committee are Mrs. Roy Gast, Mrs. H. E. Hansen, Mrs. Oliver Jensen, Mrs. B. N. Young, Mrs. F. A. Jacobson, and Mrs. R. B. Hummel.

The afternoon's program will include a book review by Miss Muriel Carson of the Campbell High school faculty and readings by Mrs. Rex Fuller. Musical numbers will be presented by Mrs. Earl Buck, contralto, Mrs. John Pollard, pianist, and an instrumental trio consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gordon and Mrs. D. A. Sanders.

strictive make-work laws which aggravate the manpower problem, also revealed that they are asking government sanction to import Mexican track workers; that they are recruiting Indians from the Indian reservations; that they are using women in all possible types of service in increasing numbers, and that they have established employment offices in the mid-west and east to supplement their California labor supply.

Cramer-Browne Nuptials Held in Stanford Chapel

After a short honeymoon at Carmel, newlywed Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Grant Cramer are established in their home at 437 Lasswell avenue, San Jose.

Miss Barbette Browne, daughter of Mrs. A. M. Browne of Hanford, became the bride of Dr. Cramer at a delightful ceremony Saturday afternoon, March 20, at 3 o'clock, in Stanford Memorial chapel. Officiating was the Rev. Donald H. Baldwin, and Warren Allen presided at the organ.

The petite blond bride was lovely in her floor length gown of white chiffon with embroidery net inset at the waist. Her flared finger-tip length veil fell from a pointed halo crown. Her bouquet was a charming arrangement of white lilacs and bouvardia.

Maid of honor was Miss Armeta Pera of Santa Cruz and Miss LoVerne Beck of San Francisco was bridesmaid. Both wore dresses of yellow organza with full skirts and flared pompadour headdress to match and their flowers were yellow daffodils with blue hyacinths.

Best man for Dr. Cramer was Dr. Robert G. Reff of the Alameda County hospital and seating the guests were Dr. Robert A. Loehr and Dr. Walter K. Watson, both of the Santa Clara county hospital.

The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Chester Anderson, and also present were her mother, her sisters and their families from points in the San Joaquin valley.

CAMPBELL LEADS IN RED CROSS WAR FUND DRIVE

Campbell is at the top of the list in collections for the Red Cross War Fund, the first district to make its minimum quota in spite of the fact that that quota was raised from $1500 to $2000.

As of Wednesday night the returns showed $2336.10 with some twenty-four or so reports still to come in.

The community has reason to be very happy over the response to this appeal, for not only is the money for service abroad, but in preparation for disasters in our own country and what may come to our own locality.

This morning's news tells of a case in Pennsylvania where a part of a town was sinking on account of mines underneath and "the Red Cross distaster service moved into the area" to take care of those whose homes were being destroyed.

Next week a complete report will be available on the drive for funds.

Death Ends Colorful Career Of J. F. Seidel

Johannes Frederick Seidel passed away on March 20 at the Spotwood Rest Home in Los Gatos. He was a native of Denmark, 80 years old and was well known to many as in the summertime he had a fruit stand in front of the Hedegard residence on Winchester road.

In his younger years he sailed on nearly all the seas and during the gold rush he went to Alaska as a miner. When he lost one hand this handicap caused him to seek lighter work. He made his home for several years with his sister, the late Mrs. T. Petersen on Winchester road. After her passing he lived with his niece, Mrs. Annie Hedegard.

He leaves three sisters, Mrs. E. Eskildsen, Mrs. K. Skrydstrup of San Jose and Mrs. John Hansen of Fresno and a brother Marius Seidel of San Jose.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Rutherford Funeral Home with the Rev. J. H. Bennett officiating.

David Rutherford sang "Pilot Me" and "The Christian's Good Night," with Mrs. Rutherford organist.

Pall bearers were John Lund, Hans Hansen, Albert Christopher, Robert Rees, Robert Seidel and Clyde Reason.

Capital of Tunisia
Tunis, capital of Tunisia, is also the chief commercial port of the French protectorate which is becoming a leading North African battle field. The city, less than ten miles south of the ancient harbor of Carthage, and about 40 miles from northern Tunisia's important naval base of Bizerte, is located at the end of a shallow lake through which has been cut a deep, narrow, six-mile-long ship canal connecting the city with the sea.

WE MUST KEEP OUR ZEST

Good appetite comes from a zest for living! That's something we cannot afford to ration or to lose. "Oh, what's the use," never brought home any bacon. And we do mean bacon—those crisp, brown strips on top of the eggs, Anno Domini, 1940.

Secretary Wickard figures that the national weekly percapita allotment under new ration plans for meat, fats, and oils beginning March 28, will amount to about 2 pounds of meat, 4½ ounces of butter, very little cheese.

But shall we get even so much? Collapse of food distribution appears imminent unless the drain of manpower can be halted promptly. Reports from distributors of various sizes in all parts of the country indicate that present turnover of manpower amounts to 10 per cent a week, since release of the War Manpower Commission's list of non-deferable industries.

Food distribution is a public service under present circumstances of rationing. California's ability to feed her citizens nutritiously will be drastically affected by any continued drain on the manpower of distributors. Food is as essential as munitions of war. But food produced and processed is of little value in civilian economy until it becomes available. Farmers are not afraid they cannot produce enough for themselves and their families. But they know they must now produce enough for the armed forces, the war industry workers, and all of the civilian population.

As a morale builder, we name a good meal. But "food for freedom" will not help to win the war if no one can get it to eat. If we are to keep our zest for life, our vigor in tackling the severe problems of the times, we must eat! If Secretary Wickard's figures, per capita, are to come true, distribution must be manned, along with the guns!

FORE, AFT, AMIDSHIP!

The American submarine which lay at the bottom of Tokyo Bay for 28 days, waiting for the launching of a Japanese aircraft carrier seen to be nearing completion, has forever silenced the axiom—"American impatience!"

Expecting the carrier to be launched momentarily the sub lay submerged in Davy Jones Locker awaiting the event. Its supplies of oxygen became so low that matches wouldn't light.

Finally, with bands playing and the flags of two Admirals waving from the ship, she started down the ways—and kept on going to the bottom of Tokyo Bay—which the submarine promptly vacated! Three torpedoes from the sub, fore, aft, and amidship, did the trick. The astonished Nipponese were several hours finding out what had happened—then they gave chase. But the story ends happily for all hands aboard the sub.

If there's humor in a war, the faces of those launching the carrier must have been an epitome. Honorable ship keep right on going! So solly!

THE WINNAH!

Hundreds of clerks in the Internal Revenue Department are processing an average of 30,000 income tax returns daily. Fifty bags of mail were carried into the office in one day. The largest check was for $12 million as a quarterly payment only—but whose return this was, remains a government secret. We'll bet the secretary who wrote that check must have looked to see how many naughts there are in millions! Think if she had written billions by mistake!

BATTLE HYMNS

Hatred—stupid, blind, ignorant—what can it ever really accomplish? The Japanese rely on hate, for their broadcasts last week told of huge caricatures of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill displayed on one of Tokyo's highest buildings. Toyko was indulging in a "concentrated hate campaign."

Some military leaders suggested that hate makes better soldiers. Some went so far as to say our soldiers must hate the Germans and Japanese to fight them successfully. But it was found impossible to teach hate.

Doesn't the significance lie in what is hatred? The Axis nations hate whoever, or whatever, obstructs their domination of the world. The Allies hate the awful crimes of totalitarianism against the freedoms of mankind. This impersonal condemnation of evil is native to democracy. This was the force that was strong enough to establish our mighty nation.

Every national hymn America sings, has for its theme the impersonal glory of freedom, courage, and truth. In a war between the ideologies of "hymns of hate" and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," our reliance upon the "terrible, swift sword" of truth is a power no Axis hate can break. Freedom is more than an habitual acceptance of a way of life. It is the very stuff of life itself.

V IS FOR VEGETABLES

Two things a man doesn't like to have empty—his stomach and his purse! That explains why, wherever you walk these days, wherever you pass a vacant lot, a backyard, an untenanted city block, you see the feathery carrot tops sprouting, beet greens peeking through, tomato plants almost boastfully tall—that is, if you live in California.

April and May will be big months for planting most anywhere above the Mason and Dixon line. Come June, we'll be planting seeds for the short-growing fail crops, and for repeat plantings of carrots, corn, beans, beets—late cabbage, cauliflower and broccoli.

Seedsman, nurserymen, fertilizer and chemical outfits are cooperating with the U. S. Department of Agriculture and garden organizations to see that city and village gardeners, as well as farmers, get the necessary equipment for victory gardens. Stores, countrywide, furnish seeds, plants, fertilizers, insecticides and even garden books. If we can't pick food off grocery shelves, we can at least pick it out of a garden!

V stands for vegetables as well as Victory. It likewise stands for Vitamins. V has become about the most Valuable letter in the alphabet.

- Q. Does an album filled with Stamps automatically become a Bond that will mature in 10 years?
- A. No. It must be exchanged for a Bond, and it will bear no interest until it is so exchanged.
- Q. Can payment of a War Savings Bond be made to the receiver or trustee in bankruptcy of the estate of a registered owner?
- A. Yes, when bankruptcy or insolvency has been adjudicated and request for payment has been duly executed.
- Q. Can I authorize my employer to set aside portions of my salary each pay day until enough is accumulated to buy a War Savings Bond?

- A. Yes, if your employer has installed a Pay-Roll Savings Plan. More than 24 million wage and salary earners are saving their money this way.
- Q. Can I invest a lump sum in War Bonds and receive from the investment a return in the nature of an annuity?
- A. No. The purchase of each War Savings Bond is a separate transaction. Each Bond is dated as of the first of the month in which payment for it is received by an authorized issuing agent, and matures exactly 10 years from that date.

Remember—the longer you keep War Bonds, up to 10 years, the more valuable they become.

THE SITUATION: Many War Trains delayed for lack of Brakemen!

THE REMEDY: Suspend California's stringent "Full Crew Law" during the War Emergency.

The railroads are carrying a tremendous load of war freight as well as troops and their equipment. This freight must be moved quickly, efficiently and without delay, for this is vital to the war effort. This freight includes equipment for our armed forces, materials for shipyards, airplane factories and other plants whose products are needed to win the war.

Like most other industries the railroads are short of manpower, and unfortunately many freight trains were delayed in California last year for lack of brakemen.

As an example of delays, one California railroad alone had 226 trains delayed from 15 minutes to 22 hours during a ten day period in October, for lack of brakemen.

Other roads had similar difficulties in meeting their wartime responsibility. As our war effort is increased, particularly on the West Coast, the railroads will have more and more passengers and freight to carry. 1943 will exceed 1942 in train movements.

An important factor in the shortage of Brakemen in California is the California "Full Crew Law," which specifies the number of brakemen on trains according to their length and the grades on which the trains operate.

There are only 14 states out of the 48 which have "Full Crew Laws" and California's law is the most restrictive, burdensome and stringent of them all. Many freight trains carry double the number of brakemen required or used in any other State of the Union.

The California railroads, therefore, are asking the California legislature to suspend the provisions of the law requiring more than two brakemen per train. They ask this suspension for the period of the war emergency only.

The California "Full Crew Law" was passed way back in 1911 and the California railroads contend that there are no reasons now for the excessive number of brakemen required by the California law. And brakemen will still have plenty of employment, for during the war emergency there will be no necessity to "make work" for any class of railroad employees, including brakemen.

You know the importance of railroad freight transportation in the war effort. You have proved this by a considerate and understanding attitude when passenger trains have been delayed by freight traffic. We are therefore issuing this frank statement in order that you may know our problem, what we are asking of the legislature, and why.

"Make production" and not "make work" legislation is our country's need now.

THE BOOK MARK

by marty

"Seven Came Through" by Captain Edward V. Rickenbacker.

Here is the story of "Eddie" Rickenbacker's twenty-one days adrift on a rubber raft in the Pacific, told by himself. It is not for personal glamour that the author has permitted this book to be published: He has a message to give to the American people—a message straight from the shoulder directly to the minds and hearts of all of us. Simply, he has told his experiences and the experiences of his fellow men on the plane that went down last fall in the South Pacific.

The predominate virtue of the book, and it has many virtues, is Eddie's faith—his faith in himself, faith in his people. His strong and awe inspiring courage throughout those miserable twenty-one days afloat makes lumps of pride gather in your throat—pride because a man of our America has such strength of endurance and courage to endure. He tells what they existed on in the way of food. When he foresaw that they would crash in spite of all that could be done, he had time to catalogue in his mind what they would gather together in the way of food and provisions and attempt to get into their raft but when the crash came everything vanished from their minds but to get out of the plane before she went down. After they were onto the rafts they took stock of what food and water they had salvaged and their discovery was four oranges, a half a dozen chocolate bars and not a drop of water. The chocolate bars were ruined from being water soaked—they turned green and slimy. So, except for the oranges, they started their drifting with nothing. Eddie said that he was more worried about their clothing than he was about food as he knew a man can live a long time without food or water, but that without anything to protect themselves from the blistering sun and the extreme cold of nights, was tragic. Their feet were burned to blisters; their mouths were covered with sores and swollen beyond all imagination. Through it all, night and day, Eddie never gave up hope of being found. His faith was rewarded, though one of their party of eight died from the ordeal and was buried at sea.

On the back cover of the book there is a message from Captain Rickenbacker to the readers of this book and I would like you to know what his message is:

"I have stipulated that all royalties from the sale of "Seven Came Through" be made payable to the Army Forces Aid Society Trust Fund. And the publishers, Doubleday, Doran & Company, have told me that they will contribute all of their profits of the sale of the book to the same organization; for which I am grateful.

"I should like to commend this cause to all readers of my story. The Army Air Forces Aid Society is a trust fund set up to help Air Force personnel and their dependents after the war. It will aid the families of men killed or wounded in service and help provide for their children's education. Also it will help Air Force men and their dependents to secure jobs."

The Tanda group of Camp-fire Girls met on Monday, March 22 at the Scout hall and from there took a Nature Study hike along the banks of Campbell Creek. Each girl brought a picnic lunch and ate beside the water.

Many learned the names of trees or plants along the path. A fine time was had by everyone.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Dance to be Held At "44 Club"

"44 Club," located at the rear of the Administration Building and slightly southwest of the Campus Canteen, will be the scene of a gay party on April 9, when members of the Junior Class again act as hosts to the student body.
Because of the success of the recent "School Days" dance, the Juniors decided to give another "hop" instead of a variety show, and committees are already working on elaborate plans for it.
Tables will be provided for guests who may order refreshments from specially planned menus. The center of the floor will be reserved for dancing, and games may be played at tables. There will also be a floor show which will include musical numbers and dances. Bill Smith's orchestra will provide the music.
Cover charge will be twenty-five cents.

Bernardasci, Hill, and Cuzic Awarded Prizes

Bernice Bernardasci received a $25 War Bond, first prize for selling the largest amount of magazine subscriptions in the recent magazine sale. She brought in $116.
The second prize, another bond, was taken by Marion Hill, who brought in $78; and Linda Cuzic, who sold $87.50, chose the third prize, a radio.
In addition to these awards $22.50 in war stamps were given out proportionally, according to the number of magazine subscriptions sold by each junior.
Altogether the juniors sold $818.25 in subscriptions, far surpassing their goal of $500. Of this amount $282.58 was clear profit.

Healthful Lenten Meals

By BETTY BARCLAY

The cook's problem is unusually difficult during the Lenten season. There is a craving for heavy, satisfying foods that she finds it hard to satisfy. Plain baked or fried fish is good, but tiresome if repeated too often.
How about a combination of macaroni and fish — carbohydrates and proteins in abundance? Vary your fish. Vary your carbohydrate foods also by serving egg noodles with fish, macaroni with fish and then spaghetti with steak. Your problems for Lent will then be over so far as the main dinner dish is concerned.
Macaroni is a nutritious wheat food. It and the different shaped spaghetti and egg noodles are often called "the energy trio." Any member of this trio blends naturally with vegetables, meat or fish to produce a well-balanced, healthful dish.
Here are three recipes showing how the foods mentioned above may be combined into three different yet equally delicious luncheon or dinner dishes:

- Egg Noodle Lenten Dish
8 ounces egg noodles
1 cup diced carrots
1 cup diced turnips
1 cup peas
1 chopped pimiento
1 small onion minced
1 medium can tuna fish flaked
1/4 teaspoon salt
Cook egg noodles in boiling, salted water until tender, then drain. Cook the vegetables and salt in enough water to cover, saving the vegetable liquid. Make a cream sauce of:
4 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1 cup vegetable liquid
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
In a casserole put a layer of egg noodles, then a layer of the mixed
- Spanish Macaroni Casserole
(A time-saver and appetite-appeaser)
1/2 lb. macaroni
1/2 lb. cheese, grated or cut in small pieces
1/2 cup diced celery
2 medium onions (chopped fine)
1 can whole tomatoes
2 tbs. chopped green pepper
2 tbs. butter
2 cups white sauce
Salt and pepper to taste
Cook onions, green pepper and celery in the butter until tender. Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender and drain. Combine macaroni and cooked onion mixture, arrange in layers in baking dish with alternate layers of cheese and tomatoes. Season and pour white sauce over it. Cover and bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees.
This recipe provides a tasty, full-meal luncheon dish. For the more elaborate dinner, fry serving it with your favorite fish — halibut, trout, or other fillets.
- Butter-Cheese Spaghetti
To 1 quart of boiling water in top of a double boiler, add 1/2 lb. spaghetti. Cover and simmer until water has cooked out (10 to 12 minutes). Add 1/2 cup butter, 1/4 lb. grated cheese and seasoning. Mix well. An excellent accompaniment for fish, fowl, meats or deviled eggs.
Since they are basically wheat foods, macaroni, spaghetti or egg noodles may be substituted for the one specifically mentioned in any of these recipes, — with equally pleasing results.

pare the boys for service. Business courses and the academic studies were also described to the parents and teachers.
Members of the panel were Phyllis Wythe, Betty Hilton, Dan Clark, and Carl Field.

Cramer Wedding

sandwiches, cake and punch were served.

For her going away outfit the bride had selected an aqua Shetland wool suit, with alligator shoes and bag, matching gloves and a tigress orchid corsage.

The bride attended the University of Southern California and San Jose State college, a member of Kappa sorority, and is now a student nurse at the Santa Clara County hospital.

Dr. Cramer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Cramer, born in Campbell, a graduate of the local schools, of Stanford University and Stanford Medical school, and now at the Santa Clara County hospital. His fraternity is Alpha Kappa Kappa.

Reduce Moisture Content
In making lard, the moisture content must be reduced to about 2 percent to insure keeping quality, and cuttings must be well browned before this stage is reached. Meat scraps scorch easily so they should be removed before the lard is rendered.

OUR BOYS are striking telling blows these days on many battle fronts. They will strike harder and oftener throughout 1943. And this will be because you with your Bond Dollars are giving them the weapons to fight with. Every ship, plane, tank, gun, rolling off the American line of production, is speeding the day of total victory.

It shall be... A TOTAL VICTORY A LASTING PEACE

Knowing this, you are willing to sacrifice, to forget luxuries, even to do without many things you have looked upon as living necessities. It is the boys on the firing line who must endure the real hardships. And that our country shall be safe and that we shall win through to a lasting peace, we at home must do our share in the only way open to us—and that is by making sure that the world's best munitions of war are in the hands of the world's best warriors.

Buying War Bonds is the patriotic thing to do. It is also the smart thing to do. It is a guarantee of America's future. For when the boys come home those bonds will be ready to find their way into the channels of free American enterprise—to build homes, establish farms, equip shops, and help our nation move into the blessed activities of Peace.

Buy War Bonds regularly and according to plan. Increase the percentage of your income you are investing in them. Help to build up the grand total of America's Nest Egg.
